DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 5-12 and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 5,542,605 to Campau.

Campau shows a flow delayed flow reservoir and cap as seen in Figs. 2-4, having a hand held water container 20, a seal 30 covering a container opening 22, the seal having a first hole 70 and a second hole 31 where the first hole is smaller and offset in a vertical direction relative to the second hole, a cap 50 having a delay chamber 53 and a drain opening 48 on a tower 51 wherein water flow from one of the seal holes to fill the delayed chamber before following out to the drain opening, the tower is covered by a tube 40.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,542,605 to Campau in view of US Patent Application Publication US 2003/0126691 A1 to Gerlach et al.

Campau shows all claimed limitations as discussed above and performs the method of filling the container with water in an upright position, attaching the cap to the container, turning the container over to a downward dispensing position, flowing water from the container through the first hole in the seal into the chamber in the cap, passing air from the cap through the second hole in the seal and into the container, Campau is silent about placing the container into a drying cabinet. Gerlach shows a container 106 as seen in Figs 8 and 6, placed in a cabinet for in-home fabric treating. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to place the container of Campau in a cabinet as taught by Gerlach to provide humidification to a single desired article in a closed spaced, see page 3, lines 3-11.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 4, 13 and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed July 11, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The fluid in the device of Campau drains out of the delay chamber when the level of the fluid reaches the level of the drain opening along the drain tube 40, seen in Fig. 5., and column 5 lines 33-45.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3754

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
